Artist Profile

A lover of bright colors even before I ever took a brush in my hand. I can't seem to have enough of colors around me. It's all about splashes of yellow, orange, red n blue, all the colors that make me happy, make me feel I want to dance and sing for the sheer joy of it. In short, it describes me, JYOTI CHORDIA. Born in 1975, and having spent many years in different states of Bengal, Tamil Nadu, USA and now in Udaipur, Rajasthan, I strive to live up to the beauty of all these places I have been in.

18th International Online Art exhibition & Competition (Exhibition Date- 5th June to 14th June 2023) - Manikarnika art gallery - 2 paintings - GOLD MEDAL AWARDEE

The object of my paintings is not to focus on one central character or idea. The whole point is to take the WHOLE painting as a complete ONE. The lines connect the one to the one. They flow endlessly, sometimes in never ending circles, sometimes aimlessly moving around and out to show interdependency. To me, these lines show my need to connect with my feelings. They give me a sense of purpose, a sense of urgency to find myself, And to loose myself too. The paintings are a part of me. I leave it up to the onlooker to connect with the lines and to feel the flow of emotions it invokes.
